Fighting Discrimination, Contrasting Violence, Empowering People: Feminisms in a Global Perspective

Editors
Sara Delmedico and Giulia Strippoli

*Culture does not make people. People make culture.
If it is true that the full humanity of women is not our culture, then we can and must make it our culture*
Chimamanda Ngozi Adichie

Against rapidly changing social, political, economical, environmental and technological landscapes, feminist responses shape and reshape scenarios and their representation, critically examining, celebrating, interpreting the approaches that mark the innovative, transformative, intersectional voices and forms in our present world.

Scholars and activists are invited to contribute to our themed issue entitled Fighting Discrimination, Contrasting Violence, Empowering People: Feminisms in a Global Perspective, aiming to explore the evolving forms of feminist theories, practices and activism globally, and over time.

Submissions can address a wide range of topics related to the theme of the issue including, but not limited to:

- Digital feminism
- Ecofeminism
- Trans feminism
- Global feminism
- Arts and feminism
- Decolonial feminism
- State, rights and feminism
- Pedagogy, education and feminism
- Ideology and feminism
- Fairytales, novels, fictions on feminism
- Documentaries on feminism
- Identities, subjectivities and feminisms
- Body, reproduction and feminism
